OUR PROCESS

1. Client Meetings

To begin the process, we meet with you on site to discuss your ideas and needs. This helps us to gain an understanding on the scope of your project. We then go away and begin to gather the necessary information for us to create a concept for you.

2. Concept Design

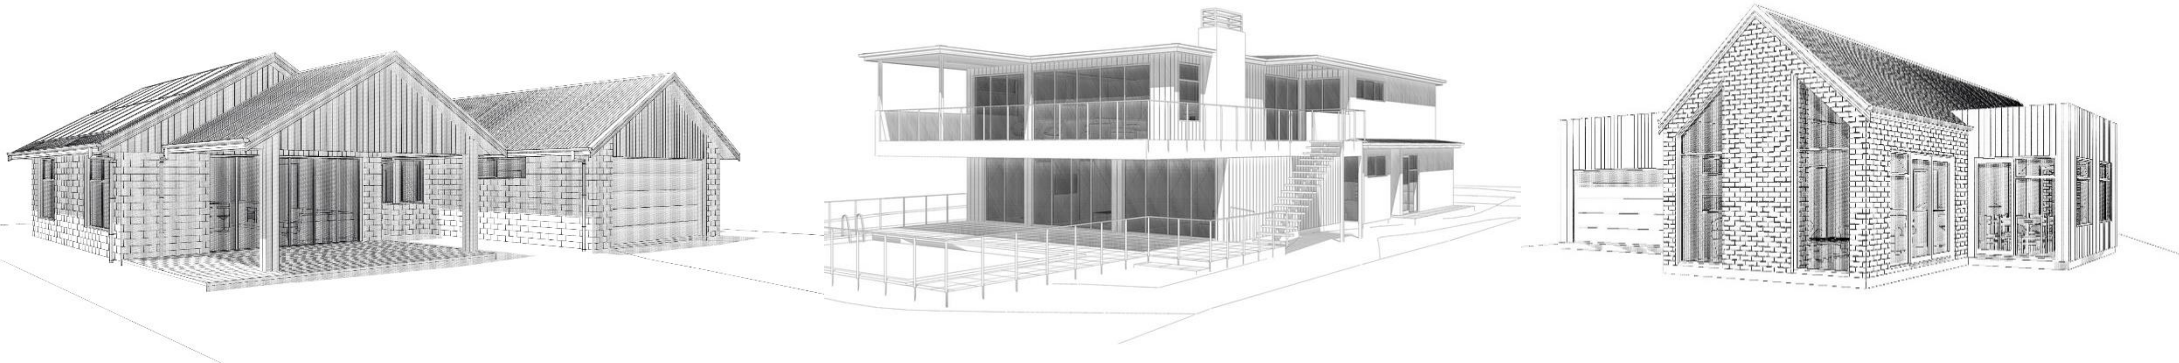

Once a concept plan is created, we present this to you for your feedback. We then discuss the aspects of the plan that you like and also the changes you may want to make. We then refine this until it is just right.

3. Detailed Design

When we have your approval on the concept, we then begin to turn these into working drawings. These are detailed drawings that show how the project is to be constructed. Once completed, we will then present these to you again for final checking.

4. Consents

After you give us the go ahead, we then collate all the drawings and documentation and will complete an application for building consent (and Resource Consent if required). When your building consent is accepted, construction may begin.

RENOVATIONS

Before

After

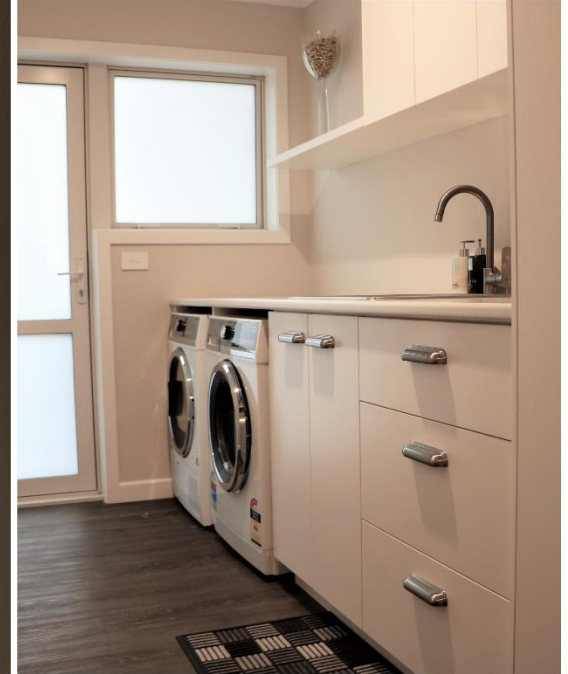

Matamata Reno

This renovation was a total transformation inside and out. The clients wanted to turn their outdated house into a modern home. The exterior was freshened up and entrance-way remodeled. We reconfigured the inside to maximise space and create an open living area. There is now a large deck to the rear for entertaining space too.

Garage Conversion

This Garage was transformed into a master bedroom with ensuite and walk in wardrobe. The addition of large windows opened up the room, allowing for plenty of natural light and making the most of the elevated views.
